

CDG Q-strip® Specific IgE Ab tests, a personalized solution for Allergy diagnostics

The Q-strip® specific IgE Ab test assays use high sensitivity chemiluminescent detection technology and state of the art liquid allergens that preserve their native conformational structure, maximizing binding and resulting in standardized, quantifiable results for informed decision making.

ADVANTAGES

Convenience: Convenience: Run allergy testing alongside your routine and specialty immunoassays in Q-strip® compatible platforms such as Virclia Lotus®.

Accuracy: Only test in the market with lot specific Master curve with 2-point re-calibration every individual assay.

Savings and transparency: 1 Q-strip = 1 Reportable result, no additional costs.

Personalized medicine: select only the allergens relevant for the patient.

Total walkaway system: Most automated allergy system in the market, no need of preparation of reagents or allergens

Quantitative Results: kUA/L (IgE WHO 2nd IRP 75/502 standardization).
